Business Professionals of America offers students the chance to develop valuable leadership skills and make connections that last a lifetime. Business Professionals of America (BPA) gives students across the country the opportunity to develop, lead and compete as they prepare for careers in today's modern business environment.

The Flour Bluff High School Business Professionals of America is working to help PTECH Construction Students gain leadership and marketing skills by preparing, planning, and implementing successful strategies to sustain and maintain a productive program. Students will set up and sell items they have made in their construction class in addition to other activities.
